Spring 2017 KACSO Conference Course Descriptions

Probation Officer Liability- What Every Officer Needs to Know – Todd Jermstad, Director of Bell & Lampasas County, TX Community and Corrections Department
This workshop discusses some of the common liability issues that officers face in their day to day activities. These issues include liability concerns arising in the supervision of offenders, in revocation proceedings, and in monitoring conditions, seeking modifications and determining changes in status. This workshop will also focus on new trends in officer liability

Management Liability- Dealing with the Usual Suspects – Todd Jermstad, Director of Bell & Lampasas County, TX Community and Corrections Department
Probation management has many challenges. Some issues are commonly shared with other organizations but some are unique to the operation of a probation department. This workshop will review general liability issues that occur in all types of workplace settings, especially regarding employment issues. The workshop will further discuss liability concerns that arise in public section settings. In addition this workshop will focus on liability issues pertinent to probation settings. The goal of this workshop is to enhance awareness of potential liability concerns when managing a probation office and further discuss ways to avoid liability traps in the supervision of employees as well as the administration of a probation department. Finally, this workshop will examine emerging trends in management liability.

The Soul, Science and Culture of HOPE –Antwone Fisher, Screenwriter and Rick Miller, CEO of Kids at Hope
Antwone Fisher, whose life inspired a major motion picture, starring Denzel Washington, and Rick Miller, Founder of Kids at Hope, an international organization that studies family, school and community cultures to better understand how children succeed or struggle will explore the themes of Antwone's life along with the science of HOPE. Clips from the film, "Antwone Fisher" will help guide the discussion. There will be an opportunity for questions and answers at the end.

Responsivity Towards Addressing the Main Criminogenic Risks – Katie Myers, Specialist and Consultant, Continuous Quality Improvement
Identifying the leading criminogenic risks/needs that lead to continued criminal behavior. Are we identifying them correctly? Are we working to lower the offenders' risk? This workshop will discuss the main risk factors and inventions to address them Approved for 3 Hours of EBP

An Introduction to Restorative Justice – Gregory Winship, Training and Office Manager for Center for Conflict Resolution and Annette Lantz-Simmons, Executive Director for Center for Conflict Resolution
This 6 hour training introduces fundamental concepts of Restorative Justice (RJ) that focus on repairing harms, restoring relationships and making things as right as possible. RJ is presented as an overarching philosophy and the trainers share principles and suggest practices that might be used to work in partnership with our current justice model. Additional topics will include RJ values, State of Risk, Communication; Retributive and Restorative principles; Dignity and dignity violations; Trauma Awareness and resilience; and Circle Processes as a means to facilitate restorative dialogue. An introduction to Restorative Justice utilizes interactive learning to encourage participates to find ways to implement RJ philosophies into their daily practices. Approved for 6 hours of CEU

From Youth at Risk to Kids at Hope – Antwone Fisher, Screenwriter and Rick Miller, CEO of Kids at Hope
This 3 hour workshop will share the research and evidence based practices to better understand how a department, school or community culture can help every young person succeed, without exception.

Interviewing Techniques When Gathering Offender Information – Katie Myers, Specialist and Consultant, Continuous Quality Improvement
This session will address tricks of the trade in getting accurate and helpful information when completing the Risk/Needs Assessments. It is crucial to obtain helpful information from our assessments or we risk completing assessments that are not done with validity or fidelity.
Approved for 3 Hours of EBP

Hands on Control Tactics –Mike Clark, Court Services Officer 21st JD
This workshop will cover some basic defensive techniques to include: relative positioning, stances, basic blocks, basic strikes and control holds. Participants should wear clothing and footwear (please wear closed-toed footwear and no high heels) that allows for freedom of movement and remove jewelry prior to arriving for the session. We will not be going to the ground but will cover techniques that can transition to takedowns and further control techniques.

Social-Emotional Resilience Made Easy – Brooks Gibbs, Author and Speaker
Taking a legal approach to non- criminal social aggression (a.k.a. bullying) can often escalate problems rather than eliminate them. Research has identified resilience education as a promising solution to social aggression. Nationally recognized presenter, Brooks Gibbs, will teach you how to help students who are chronic victims of social aggression by quickly identifying their areas of emotional weakness and provide easy methods to build up their emotional resilience. The approach that he presents in this workshop empowers students with the ability to solve their own social problems rather than relying on law enforcement to step in. In addition to the live training, all attendees will be provided with additional downloadable training material these lessons will provide detailed instruction on responding to a variety of aggressive scenarios including: name calling, pushing/shoving, social exclusion, racism, gay insults, rumors, cyber bullying and more.

Outlaw Motorcycle Gangs – Steve Cook, Executive Director at Midwest OMGIA
This workshop will give detailed background and history on Outlaw Motorcycle Ganges including how to identify members, how members are recruited, and what the mentality is of an Outlaw Motorcycle Gang member. A special emphasis will be made on what active Outlaw Motorcycle Gangs are operating in the Kansas and Missouri area.

Drug Testing: A Review of Best Practices – Paul Cary, Independent Forensic Toxicology Consultant
Effective drug testing in criminal justice programs is essential to overall success. This presentation is designed for both new and experiences court services officers who want a comprehensive review designed to provide evidence based strategies for building and maintaining a successful abstinence monitoring program. Attendees will learn the reasons for testing, how to select clients for maximum abstinence surveillance, what specimens yield the best results, appropriate collection strategies and how to interpret results. Addition focus issues will include controlling sample tampering and the use of creatinine measurements, dispelling popular drug testing myths and much more. This skills building session is intended to encourage practitioners to know more about drug testing than their clients.

Senate Bill 367 Roundtable Discussion-Amy Raymond, OJA, Kelly Johnson, CCSO, Kevin Emerson, CCSO, and Kerr Weible, CSO III
Amy Raymond and CSOs Johnson, Emerson, and Weible will discuss the new Juvenile Justice legislation, how it affects Court Services and the implementation process being undertaken by OJA and other agencies
